

BUSINESS EDUCATION SERIES

By Dale Dunphy

On January 10 Janice Butler, owner of Creative Breeze Training, treated members to an entertaining and informative presentation.

One should have anticipated from the title of her presentation “Energy is Everything” that some audience participation would be involved. Janice had everyone at the well-attended session on their feet grooving to high-energy music, clapping and laughing. From the energy and enthusiasm Janice put into her session, it is obvious that she has taken her years of professional experience as a trainer to a new and exciting level.

How are your water crystals? I’ll leave it up to those present at the session to provide their own answers to that question. Her talk was sprinkled with useful information, anecdotes and fun ways to self-energize. She encouraged attendees to start each day with a great attitude and a smile as a means to increase their productivity and enjoy life.

I’m sure that attendees took considerable energy and some fresh perspectives back to their workplaces. Our sincere thanks go out to Janice (and supporting cast) for a fun, engaging and useful presentation.
